

Application

BOTH sides flat, British Museum Approved, multi purpose, versatile product for use within the museum, heritage and construction industries. Suitable for protection of fittings and precious items during building and refurbishment works: also ideal for protection of items whilst in transition or in store.

Colour

White, printed in red with full certification details (LPS 1207) which must be printed on the product

Certification Details

This product is flame retardant and approved to LPS 1207 by the Loss Prevention Certification Board. Certificate Number 505a/01

Dimensions

1.5 metres wide x 100 linear metres long = 150 square metres

Other Details

The product is resistant to chemical

The product is water resistant

The product is not toxic and meets the requirements of toxic gas emissions for testing standard LPS 1207

The product has been tested by the British Museum for compatibility as a protection material in contact with silver, copper and lead and is suitable for permanent use.

Advantages of Use

Extremely strong, durable and flexible temporary protection material. Sealed with nylon so much stronger than normal bubble wrap materials and less deflation.

Availability

Normally 2 – 4 days

